FIND RELIABLE INFORMATION

- Go to: <http://catalog.bccls.org>
 - Click on Advanced Keyword Search
 - Click on Include full-text articles, journals, and more
 - Select the databases that you wish to search
 - *If you only want results from the databases, deselect the BCCLS Library Catalog option
 - *You can select up to 20 databases at one time
 - Click on the Set Databases button
 - Enter your search terms in the search box and click Go!
 - While the catalog searches for your results, a list of up to 10 preliminary search results will appear
 - *These initial results may or may not satisfy your search, so make sure that you follow the next steps to retrieve all available results
 - Above your preliminary search results, you will see a bar that reads:
Don't see what you want? There are (X possible matches pending). Get More Results!
 - As the catalog searches for your results, you will see the number of possible matches increase until all possible matches have been found
 - Once all possible matches have been found, click on Get More Results!
 - Your full list of results will appear
 - Click on Web Link to view a result
 - Many results will yield full-text articles, but other results may only be available as abstracts or summaries
